- 6.3. It may also be possible to register via a Facebook account, Google account, email address or Apple ID registration. In the case of Registration through an existing account, the Client is obliged to check the accuracy of the data that have been transferred from the existing account, and in the event of their inaccuracy or outdated information, and correct it immediately. It is not possible to complete the Registration without entering the data marked as mandatory.
- 6.4. The user dashboard („Dashboard“) is an overview of Services available to the Client, offers and communications. Besides that, the parties may communicate by other means, preferably by email.
- 6.5. The Client is responsible for all use of the Services under their account, whether or not authorized, including any use of API keys.
- 6.6. When using DynaCrop's APIs, each request to an API must include one of the Client's account unique API keys.

7. Protection of information:

7.1. The information entered by the Client during the Registration will be protected in accordance with legal regulations and will be available within the Dashboard to a limited extent.

8. Closing of cancelling an Account:

8.1. The Contract may also be terminated by cancelling the Account, both by the Client and/or by DynaCrop. Cancellation of the Account has the same effects as termination of the Contract without notice. The timeline for deleting the personal data is 30 days. Information relating to orders and payments shall be archived and stored for the purposes of accounting and tax obligations and for the protection of rights for a maximum of 10 years in accordance with Article 17 (3) of the GDPR. After this time, the data will be deleted.

9. Consequences of the Closing of the Account:

9.1. Closing of the Account results in denying access to the Services. However, by closing the Account, Client's obligation shall not cease which have arisen during the term of the Contract and have not been fulfilled so far (e.g. duty to compensate damage, or other obligations etc.), nor such provisions of the Contract shall cease that should remain in existence even after its termination.

10. Change of the Access Data:

10.1. DynaCrop shall be entitled to change the access data to the Account (username and password) for an urgent technical or safety reason without the Client's consent, in particular on the assumption that such measure is necessary for the due provision of the Service. DynaCrop shall inform the Client of such changed access data (username and password) without undue delay.

11. DynaCrop Journey:

11.1. Upon the agreement of both sides and payment of the price, the Client obtains access to trial use of DynaCrop Services, so-called DynaCrop Journey (the „Journey“). The Journey grants limited access to all DynaCrop features and may be used for non-commercial use for the purposes of business development. Therefore, the Clients are encouraged to use the Journey for integration with their Services and to offer it to the Client's end-users, as long as the Clients do not charge their end-users for Journey Services.

11.2. The Journey is limited to 1000ha of fields, 100 polygons and max. 6 months if not agreed otherwise. After that period, the Account remains but the Client may not use the Services without subscribing to any of the price plans.

11.3. During the Journey, the compensations and warranties of DynaCrop do not apply.

12. The Contract:

- 12.1. The Client may enter into the Service contract by placing a purchase order or by any other (semi)automated means offered by DynaCrop.
- 12.2. The Services purchase order states the level of Services the Client has access to (number of indices, functions, etc.).
- 12.3. DynaCrop confirms the acceptance of the purchase order and enables the Client to use the Services without undue delay. Such acceptance of the purchase order constitutes an obligation of the Client to pay the Services fees, regardless of whether the Client actually used all available Services.
- 12.4. The Client is responsible for any inaccuracy of the data that they provided during the Registration and/or the purchase order.
- 12.5. Unless agreed otherwise, the Contract is concluded for the period stated in the purchase order (provided that DynaCrop accepts such purchase order) and may be prolonged automatically. Unless the Client unsubscribes from the Price plan, they will be charged the same amount for the same Services for the same period of time. The automatic prolongation may apply repeatedly.
- 12.6. If the Client unsubscribes and/or the Services are not paid for whatever reason, their User Account remains active but no Services are available.

13. Warranty Services, Post-warranty Support:

- 13.1. DynaCrop warrants that its Services meet the agreed specifications and other Service-related requirements and that such works and Services are provided free from any faults. Specifications of DynaCrop's products and technical data required for its use are specified at the Sites.
- 13.2. DynaCrop guarantees that its Services shall be provided with 99 % availability.
- 13.3. The Services shall be considered fully or partially unavailable when Service is inaccessible from any location (in which case availability for the API for the relevant time period will be calculated as the fraction of API requests that are failing worldwide). DynaCrop will do its best to avoid interrupting the Service during peak hours.
- 13.4. Uptime in a month will be calculated across APIs based on the uptime of each individual API used during the month, weighted by the fraction of all Client's API requests accounted for by each API during that month. For purposes of this guarantee, a "month" means a period of 30 consecutive days.
- 13.5. In case of the outage of the paid Services, DynaCrop provides the following compensation:
- 13.6. Compensation:

Total Available Uptime (across all APIs) per month	Extension of a prepaid period for each registered polygon
100% - 99%	0 days
99% - 95%	5 days
95%- 85%	10 days
Less than 85%	15 days

13.7. To receive compensation, the Client must contact DynaCrop within 30 days following the end of the unavailability via email at dynacrop@dynacrop.space and include the dates and times of unavailability. If DynaCrop confirms that the uptime percentage in a month covered by the request is below 99,0 %, DynaCrop grants the compensation. Compensation is added to the end of the prepaid term for the Service, and cannot be exchanged for, or converted to, monetary compensation.

13.8. This Extension of a prepaid period is a sole and exclusive remedy (and DynaCrop's sole liability) for the unavailability of the Services. These free Services constitute the final and only compensation for any outages of the Services.

14. Limitations:

14.1. A period of unavailability is excluded from the Service level guarantee, and will not count towards unavailability calculations for purposes of compensations, if:

- the unavailability is due to scheduled maintenance notified at least 5 days in advance;
- the unavailability is due to Data providers failing to provide the data;
- if the Client is in breach of Contract (including overdue payment obligations), or the unavailability is otherwise due to Client's actions;
- the unavailability is caused by factors outside of DynaCrop's reasonable control, including a force majeure event; internet access problems; blocking, filtering, or censorship of our Services by a government or other third party; or other problems beyond DynaCrop's Services.

15. Support:

15.1. In case of outages or other problems, DynaCrop will address all Client's claims related to malfunctions of any part of DynaCrop solution (eg. software glitches, non-consistent software outputs).

15.2. DynaCrop provides support primarily in the Czech, Slovak and English languages, and upon previous agreement in other languages as well.

15.3. The support is provided remotely, the on-site Services are not available.

15.4. Any problems shall be notified to DynaCrop's Service Desk, which is a single point of contact, available 24 x 7 x 365. The same applies to any requests and suggestions for Service improvement, new functions etc. The Client shall notify the Incident to DynaCrop's contact:

Service line e-mail	support@dynacrop.space
---------------------	------------------------

15.5. If the Client provided the access to Services to their end-users, the support is provided to the Client, the end-users of Client may not contact DynaCrop directly, only through the Client.

15.6. Prior to contacting DynaCrop's support line, the Client shall consult the technical documentation/manuals available at docs.dynacrop.space, try to identify the malfunctions, and be able to describe the effect of the reported incident to DynaCrop, ie. the screenshots, logs, polygon id, endpoint description.

15.7. Once DynaCrop receives the notification alert, DynaCrop will:

- open ticket in DynaCrop support system

The Parties agreed that in the case when a claim for damages is filed based on the legal relationship between the Client and DynaCrop, DynaCrop shall be liable only for actually sustained damage duly proven and substantiated by the Client and such damages shall not exceed 50% of the aggregate fees for the Services paid in the three-months period that directly precedes the month in which such damage was sustained.

16.2. DynaCrop shall not be liable to the Client for any indirect, accidental and subsequent damage consisting in, for example, a failure to generate the expected profit, loss, contracts, data, operating time or loss of use of any equipment or process, or for a failure to achieve the expected results concerning the operations of the undertaking or a failure to meet any business plan. The provisions in this clause shall neither apply in cases of intentional or grossly negligent breaches of duty.
- 17.3. Under no circumstances, and under no legal theory, including negligence, shall DynaCrop or its affiliates, contractors, employees, agents, or third-party partners or suppliers, be liable for any special, indirect, incidental, consequential, or exemplary damages (including loss of profits, data, or use or cost of cover) arising out of or relating to these Terms or that result from your use or the inability to use the Site, including software, Services, maps, content, user submissions, or any third party sites referred to on or by the Site, even if DynaCrop or DynaCrop's authorized representative has been advised of the possibility of such damages.
- 17.4. In case of a breach of contractual obligations, defective deliveries or tortious acts, DynaCrop's liability – limited to compensation damages or expenses, and subject to any other contractual or statutory conditions for liability – applies only if DynaCrop has acted intentionally or with gross negligence or in cases of minor negligence.
- 17.5. There is no indemnification of the loss which exceeds the damage that has been anticipated by the liable party at the time of entering into the Contract as a possible consequence of its breach of the obligation or which could have been anticipated taking into account the fact at the time mentioned above the liable party was aware of or with due care should have been aware of.

Thus, DynaCrop will not get access to the Client's bank card number. Other than that, DynaCrop does not share the Client's personal data and will do its best to avoid sharing any personal identification of the Client at all.

19.9. Clients may only withhold or offset due payments against their own counter-claims if these are uncontested or have been found to be legally binding.

20. Services Suspension:

20.1. In case that any of the fees are not duly paid, DynaCrop may cease to provide any and/or all Services until the full repayment and remove all entrusted data temporarily or forever. Such interruption of Services does not interrupt the Client's obligation to pay any fees as specified herein.

20.2. In case that the payment card provider does not proceed with the payments for any reason, DynaCrop may suspend any and/or all of its Services.

21. Support Fee:

21.1. As long as the malfunction or problem falls within DynaCrop's warranty, the solution will be provided free of charge.

30.1. In the event of claims against the Client because of breach of an industrial property right or copyright in using deliveries or Services supplied by DynaCrop in accordance with the contractually defined manner, DynaCrop shall be responsible to obtain the right for the Client to continue using such deliveries or Services, provided that the Client gives immediate written notice of such third-party claims and DynaCrop's rights to take all appropriate defensive and out-of-court actions are reserved. If despite such actions, it proves impossible to continue using the deliveries or Services supplied by DynaCrop under reasonable economic conditions, it shall be understood as agreed that DynaCrop may, at the discretion of DynaCrop, modify or replace the particular delivery or Service for the removal of a legal deficiency, or take back such delivery or Service with refunding of the sales price previously paid to DynaCrop.

30.2. The Client shall have no further claims alleging infringement of industrial property or copyrights provided DynaCrop has neither violated essential contractual duties nor intentionally or grossly negligently breached contractual duties.

31. Publicity:

31.1. The Client agrees that DynaCrop may present the Client in its marketing communication, and will participate by means of reference visits, press releases, case studies, audiovisual presentations including but not limited to promotional videos and VR releases.

31.2. During the term of this Contract, the Client hereby grants to DynaCrop a worldwide, non-exclusive, royalty-free, non-transferable license to use Client's trademarks, Service marks, and logos for the purpose of identifying the Client as DynaCrop's Client to promote and market the Services.

32. Miscellaneous:

32.1. Obligations arising from this Contract shall pass to legal successors of the Parties, where applicable. The Provider is entitled to assign its claims on the Client to third parties even without the Client's consent.

32.2. The Parties undertake to settle any disputes arising from this Contract and in relation thereto, preferentially by negotiations, which means by agreement of the contact persons on the part of the Provider and of the Client, or, where applicable, by agreement of the statutory bodies of the Provider and of the Client.

33. Validity of certain provisions; severability:

33.1. If any provision of this Contract is found to be invalid or incomplete, the validity of the remaining Terms and provisions shall not in any way be affected. In this case, the Contract's provisions shall be determined on the basis of the relevant statutory provisions.

34. Changes to these Terms:

34.1. The current wording of these General Conditions shall be available on DynaCrop Sites.

34.2. DynaCrop reserves the right to modify these Terms at any time by posting the changed Terms on the Site. All changes shall be effective immediately upon posting; therefore, the Client is advised to check these Terms periodically for changes. Continued use of the Services after the posting of changes constitutes the Client's binding acceptance of the new Terms.

35. Choice of Law:

35.1. Any contractual and other relations established in conjunction with the agreed Contract or rights and obligations of the parties arising from legal relation constituted by way of the agreed Contract and the present Terms shall be governed exclusively by the Czech law with the exclusion of the international conflict of laws provisions thereof and with the exclusion of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG), provided that Client is a merchant, a legal person under public law or a special fund under public law.

35.2. Legal relationships arising from the Contract and these Terms that are not expressly regulated by the Parties shall be governed by the applicable provisions of the Czech Civil Code, and other laws and generally binding regulations. The interpretation of the Terms and the Contract shall be governed first by the provisions of the Czech Civil Code or other legal regulations as a whole and only then by the applicable trade usage (that is, also the provisions of such regulations that are not of a coercive nature take priority over the trade usage). The Parties do not wish any rights and obligations to be implied beyond the scope of the express provisions of the Terms and the Contract from the current or future practice established between the Parties or the established practice in general or the practice in the business related to the object of this Contract unless it is expressly agreed otherwise in the Terms of the Contract. In addition to the above, the Parties confirm to each other that they are not aware of any trade usage or practice existing between them.

35.3. Amicable dispute resolution. Any and all disputes between the Parties arising from the Contract or in connection therewith shall be settled by the Parties in particular amicably and without useless delays.

- 35.4. Courts and CTIA: Should the Parties fail to find a resolution pursuant to the preceding article within thirty days they may submit their dispute to the relevant common court or the Czech Trade Inspection Authority at any time. The Czech Trade Inspection Authority (<http://www.coi.cz/>) is entitled to extrajudicial resolution of consumer disputes in the event where the consumer is a party to the agreement from which the dispute in question arose. The Czech Trade Inspection Authority, however, is not entitled to make a binding resolution in the matter. Common courts of the Czech Republic have jurisdiction to make binding resolutions on all disputes.
- 35.5. Both parties to the agreed Contract undertake to settle any potential disputes in conjunction with the concluded Contract amicably. Parties to the agreed Contract have also explicitly agreed that in case that potential disputes arising between them in conjunction with the agreed Contract fail to be settled amicably, all disputes arising from the present Contract and/or in connection with it shall be finally decided with the Arbitration Court attached to the Czech Chamber of Commerce and the Agricultural Chamber of the Czech Republic by one arbitrator appointed by the President of the Arbitration Court.
- 35.6. Any claims held against DynaCrop may not be assigned to third parties.
- 35.7. The sale, resale and disposal of goods and Services including any associated technology or documentation may be governed by Czech, EU, US export control regulations as well as by the export control regulations of further countries. Any resale of goods to embargoed countries or to denied persons or persons that use or may use the goods for military purposes, ABC weapons or nuclear technology is subject to an official license. The client declares with their order the conformity with such statutes and regulations and that the goods will not directly or indirectly be delivered into countries that prohibit or restrict the import of such goods. The client declares to have obtained all licenses required for export and import.

36. Final Provisions:

- 36.1. Termination of the Contract: The rights and obligations of the Parties to these General Conditions shall not terminate by the expiration of the term of the Contract; such rights and obligations shall survive until they are satisfied.
- 36.2. Severability: Should any provisions of these General Conditions or the Contract prove invalid, such fact shall be without prejudice to the validity of the Contract or these General Conditions as a whole. The Parties shall agree on new provisions that shall supersede the existing provisions and that shall be as close as possible to the original purpose. Such new provisions may also be contained directly in the Contract.
- 36.3. The Parties have agreed that the following provisions of the Civil Code shall not apply to the relationships established by the Contract: Section 557, Section 1799, Section 1800 and Section 1805 (2).

- 36.4. The Client assumes the risk of a change in circumstances within the meaning of Section 1765 of the Civil Code.
- 36.5. The Parties exclude the application of Section 1740 (3) of the Civil Code under which the Contract is entered into even in the absence of full compatibility of the Parties' manifestation of will.
- 36.6. Rights arising from the Contract or a breach thereof shall lapse within a limitation period of two (2) years of the date on which the particular right could have been exercised for the first time.
- 36.7. Entire agreement: The Contract constitutes the entire agreement regarding the subject matter of the Contract. The Contract supersedes all prior or contemporaneous representations, understandings, agreements, or communications between the parties, whether written or verbal.
- 36.8. The Client hereby confirms that it is aware of the following important arrangements contained in these Terms and Conditions and that it understands and expressly accepts the arrangements: (i) a shorter payment period; (ii) the entitlement to set off any claims; (iii) limitation of the Client's right to damages; (iv) the exclusion of protective provisions regulating adhesion contracts, exclusion of interpretation to the detriment of a petitioner and the exclusion of a limit on default interest.

Validity and effectiveness: These Terms and Conditions shall be valid and effective from July 1st 2021.
